What was one thing you enjoyed?

that i was admin

---

What was one thing you found difficult/confusing/frustrating?

how am i making an account for somebody on my account?

Other comments

"I'm logged in as admin, and for some reason I have the ability to make an account, where I have the ability to enter a sensitive password for somebody else. What I think should be happening is that I am just of knowledge on this website and it says "Create an Account" and I help them with that, instead of linking them to our account. I don't think admin should be making accounts. This was really confusing"
